

ADMITTS CRIME;
YET IS RELEASEDRobert Strange Is Let Out of Colorado Penitentiary.

CONFESSED KILLING PROWSE

DECLARED LYNCH AND KING
INNOCENT OF MURDER.

Robert Strange, the convict who admitted to a fellow prisoner in the Canon City penitentiary that he killed Colonel Godfrey Prowse at the time the Sheep Ranch gambling house was held up in this city, has completed his sentence and been released from custody at the Colorado prison. Strange confessed to the crime for which James Lynch and Robert L. King, now in the Utah penitentiary, were sentenced to death. King was recently granted a new trial but Lynch's sentence stands. Why Strange was released from custody is a mystery. He confessed to having killed Prowse and declared that Lynch and King were innocent of the crime. Shortly after his confession, authorities went to Canon City from here and cross-examined Strange. However, Strange was at this time serving a sentence for another offense and could not be taken away from the Colorado prison. About a month ago he finished his sentence and was released.

It is probable that the attorneys for King will use Strange's confession now that he has been released. King is an Italian and largely through the efforts of Giuseppe Canoe, the Italian consul at Denver, a new trial was secured for him. In speaking of the case, Consul Canoe said:

"The people of Utah and the representatives of the law in Utah deserve the greatest credit for having granted to the unfortunate man a new trial in order that he may prove his innocence. Utah will have added another page of justice to its history and the prayer of a mother in a faraway land will rise to the Supreme Being to protect the people of Utah and its magnanimous and just courts."

"I have interested myself in this case not so much because King was an Italian, but because he was an innocent man. He has now spent nearly three years in the death cell for a crime which he never committed. I have worked for him in the cause of humanity and am much pleased that he has been granted a new trial."

Consul Canoe dwelt at some length upon the alleged fact that King refused to go out when given an opportunity to escape from the time of the recent break, but it has developed that he was not given a chance to go. Several of the trustees who were near his cell at the time the occurrence is supposed to have taken place declared that King's cell was never unlocked.

Now that King has been granted a new trial, every effort will be made by his attorneys to free him from the charge and it is understood that Strange's confession will be one of the principal grounds for the motion for dismissal.

HIT BY STREET CAR.

Harold Keller and Miss Mary Zinger
Are Hurt.

While Harold Keller of Mill Creek and Miss Mary Zinger, who lives near Ninth Street and Ninth East, were driving south on Ninth Street last evening at 8:30 o'clock, their buggy was struck by a street car and both were thrown from the vehicle and injured.

The accident happened below Tenth Street. The street car was coming north and the motorist, seeing the vehicle approaching, rang the gong. This alarmed the horse, and he whirled, with the result that the car struck the buggy, wrecking it and hurling its occupants to the ground. Both were injured, though neither sustained any broken bones. The driver, Keller, who attended them, said later that neither was seriously injured.
